3.2 - Innovation Ecosystem

3.2.1 - Institution has created an ecosystem for innovations and has initiatives for creation and transfer of knowledge

The institute has created and developed an ecosystem for research and innovation for its faculty as well as students. International Webinars, National Seminars, Workshops, Gender Sensitization Programs etc. are organized on regular basis. The faculty of the college is always motivated to do quality research. The faculty always participate in seminars and workshops organized by this college and other institutions and they also encourage the students to participate in various such activities. Recently, a workshop on Research Methodology has been organized by IQAC. Every teaching staff of the college has to perform various research and innovative works during the year on the basis of which they get A/R score to get promoted.

The National Education Policy 2020 is implemented in the college in which the curriculum designed to foster research and innovation at an early stage of students provides opportunities for field projects, internships, community engagement and apprenticeships from the first year of graduation. Most of the departments of the institute have dissertation writing as a part of their curriculum, especially for postgraduate students. The college is preparing to open research centers in its various departments. The institution provides modern facilities like the internet, computers, research journals, library, etc.
